

Amy passes her course with flying colours

Congratulations to Amy Cooper who has just been offered a place on a Masters degree course in Social Work at Swansea University. Amy had to participate in a 3 part interview which she passed with flying colours. Amy had this to say: “I am a fun, caring person and have a good sense of humour, I always say follow your dreams and don’t let anything stop you from doing what you love! I have been told that I’m a fighter. I have been studying in Swansea for three year at university for degree in Health and Social Care, I received some fantastic news that I passed. At the end of my second year, I was nominated by my tutors and the Dean of faculty for an award from Ede & Ravenscroft for ‘best student of the year’. I’m now going on to study my Masters in Social work.”
